Method

1. Preheat the oven to 160°C.
2. Heat the oil in a pan and add the bacon (optional), onions, garlic, coriander seeds, cumin seeds, curry leaves and curry paste. Cook until the onions are soft and golden.
3. Add the mince and continue to cook until the meat is evenly browned. Add the chutney and continue cooking over a medium heat.
4. In a separate jug, whisk together the boiling water and the contents of the packet of Royco® Bolognaise Cook-In Sauce. Pour this into the pan, stir well and simmer until the liquid has mostly evaporated. Season to taste with salt and pepper.
5. Remove the pan from the heat and set aside until needed.
6. To make the naan bread, combine the flour, sugar, salt and yeast in a big bowl. In a separate jug, lightly whisk together the milk, water and egg. Pour this mixture into the dry ingredients and stir well to make a dough.
7. Knead the dough on a lightly floured surface for 3 - 5 minutes, then place the ball in an oiled bowl. Cover with clingfilm or a cloth and allow to prove for 45 -60 minutes, or until well risen.
8. Divide the dough into 8 - 12 balls and roll each ball flat into a disc. Add a spoonful of the mince mixture to each disc and pinch closed to form a pocket. Gently roll each filled pocket to flatten it slightly, and set aside.
9. Mix together the melted butter, garlic and chopped coriander. Brush the garlic butter over the dough pockets.
10. Heat a frying pan and cook the pockets, in batches and without extra fat, until golden brown on both sides.
11. Place on a baking tray and bake at 160°C for 10 - 15 minutes.
12. Serve warm with plain yoghurt and sambals of your choice.
